Communication Workshop

Our Communication Workshop provides you with a personalized interpretation of your behavioral tendencies using a process called DiSC®. Each participant receives a comprehensive report that allows them to better understand their behavioral tendencies. You develop an awareness and an understanding of the behavioral styles and tendencies of the people around you. By better understanding their dimensions of behavior, you will see how you can improve your relationships at work.

Improve Interpersonal Skills with DiSC®

“A million thanks for your workshop. It’s made such a difference in the work environment in my office. This is a great tool that I would highly recommend.” - Lyn Donohugh, President, Integrity Title Agency, Inc.

The DiSC® Interpersonal Communication Workshop closes the communication gap in your office or company.

Features

Many people today believe that before we can manage others in the workplace, we must learn to manage ourselves.

The DiSC® report helps you better understand yourself in the following areas:

- Your Behavioral Strengths
- Your Behavioral Style
- Motivating and De-Motivating Factors
- Your Behavior in Conflict
- How You Relate to People and to Your Work Environment

This report provides new strategies for creating positive relationships in the workplace and increased effectiveness.

Effective relationships are the foundation of a high achieving organization.
